Everything You Need To Know

Lange Real Estate is excited to partner with other industry experts to offer a class for all home buyers in our local community. Join us for a 2 hour presentation including an open Q&A and learn from industry leading professionals on how to prepare and what to expect when purchasing a home in today's real estate market.

This class will feature a real estate agent experienced in assisting home buyers, 2 mortgage advisors providing home buyer grants and programs, and a credit repair specialist with all the information you need to know regarding your credit score and ways to improve it.

Already a home owner, but wanting to learn more about the process before your next home purchase? This class offers valuable information for even seasoned home owners!

Your one stop shop for all of your home buying questions! RSVP today to secure your spot.

We'll be providing snacks and refreshments to keep you fueled and focused. If you can't attend in person, we've got you covered with virtual options available.
